The Academy for Sport Leadership Workshops

Cory Dobbs goes above and beyond making the case for team leadership and why it is a valuable leadership style. We are coaching in a changing world and our student-athletes are different. I am a big believer that it is our charge to teach leadership, more than ever before and sports can be by far, the best classroom. -Kathy Delaney-Smith, Harvard University

Coaching for Leadership will challenge you to take an in-depth look at yourself as a coach as well as your personal beliefs about leadership. Cory does raise the bar. -Cindy Fredrick, University of Nevada Las Vegas

All student-athletes and coaches have the ability to be high-performing leaders, but learning how to develop and use leadership ability is the key. These workshops are vital to your growth as a leader and growing your team leaders. -Neal Meyer, Senior Director of Basketball Operations, NBA Europe
